

MEXICO WILL THROW ARMY IN FIELD

Plans to Send 9000 Federals to Sonora to Crush Revolt Seething There

WILL FIGHT SECESSION PLAN TO BITTER FINISH

Veteran General to Command Forces; Gen. Ojeda Surround-ed; Emilio Madero Active

NACO, Ariz., March 15.—Astounding the besiegers, General Ojeda, at the head of three hundred federals, sailed from Naco at noon to attack three hundred rebels under General Calles in a position three miles south-east of town. The rebels were completely surprised and compelled to retreat before the infantry attack, which was supported by machine gun fire.

Ojeda withheld the fire of his attackers until within four hundred yards of the rebel front. A dozen rebels fell at the first volley. The attackers suffered heavily when their fire was returned. It is reported that a score of men fell, on both sides.

Calles retreated to a stronger position in a canyon, and prepared to hold it until General Bracamonte, with four hundred rebels now encamped five miles away, reaches him with aid.

Federal Troops for Sonora

MEXICO CITY, March 15.—It is reported unofficially that 6000 regular troops from the capital and 3000 from Chihuahua will be sent to Sonora to quell the rebellion there. It is believed the Huerta government will resist the secession move to the bitter end, fearing the example to other states if Sonora should be successful in establishing a separate republic. It is reported that General Cuellar, the veteran of a score of campaigns, will be made commander in chief of the federal forces in Sonora.

GEN OJEDA SURROUNDED BUT WILL RESIST TO A FINISH

NACO, Arizona, March 15.—Gen. Ojeda, commanding 600 federals, this morning was preparing to make a final stand for the Huerta government in northern Sonora and declared that he would fight to the end. He was surrounded by rebels, Calles and Bracamonte with the Agua Prieta conquerors being but three miles to the southwest. Three troops of American cavalry under Capt. White have been patrolling the international border. Two additional troops arrived today from Fort Huachuca.

DEMOCRATS HAVE SENATORIAL DREAM

Planning to Have Bona Fide Activity Among the Upper House Members

CAUCUS COMMITTEE TO BE REAL POWER

Leaders of the Administration Forces Hoping for Unity of Future Action

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Senator John W. Kern of Indiana, the majority leader in the United States senate, today received in behalf of the Democratic senate caucus committee the reform proposals of the Democratic steering committee.

Among the reforms suggested are that the Democratic members of all conference committees and sub-committees, hereafter be chosen by the Democratic members of the respective caucus committee instead of the committee chairmen hereafter choose the steering committees; that the majority of each committee elect their own chairman; that vacancies on all committees be filled by the steering committee with the approval of the caucus.

"We propose," said Senator Kern in explanation, "that the senate shall be Democratic in reality. I hope these resolutions will be adopted so the nation will know that under Democratic control the senate is an active, efficient and sympathetic branch of the national government, which responds quickly to the people's will, and is willing to do its share of the work in the great progressive movement of the twentieth century."

Leaders of the administration forces are hopeful that they will be able to insure unity of action on all administration measures, notwithstanding Senator Tillman's displeasure over his defeat for chairman of the appropriations committee.

Committee On Revision

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The Democratic caucus has approved the steering committee's recommendations on the committee chairmanships. The following senators compose the committee that will handle final revision at the special session: Simmons, Stone, Williams, Johnston, Shively, Smith of Georgia, James, Thomas, Newlands and Gore. BLINDED BY LOVE FOR HIGHTONE BURGLAR

Minister's Eloping Wife Says She Was Starving for Affection

ACCUSES HUSBAND OF BEING CRUEL TO HER

San Francisco Authorities Now Seeking Another Woman Who Followed Conn

MILWAUKEE, March 15.—I was simply starved for love," was the explanation given today by Mrs. Mabel Clarkson, wife of Rev. Nestor Clarkson, for deserting her husband and children and eloping with Owen Conn, the San Francisco burglar.

"I married when I was eighteen," the woman told the police. "My husband soon tired of me and treated me shamefully. I was so hungry for love I would have been grateful for attentions from anyone. This condition blinded me to the kind of man Conn really was."

The woman bitterly denounced Conn and offered to testify against him.

Police Making Search

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Acting under the direction of Captain of Detectives Mooney, Detectives Prohl, Reihl and Black, who have taken up the trail of Mrs. Kate Pope, the woman companion of Owen Conn, the $100,000 burglar, have covered every station of importance along the line of railroads from this city to Detroit, hoping to get track of the missing woman. They are positive that Mrs. Pope carries on her person or in her luggage at least half of the valuable loot secured by Conn during his operations in the cities about the bay and in Southern California. They know she bought a through ticket to Detroit and had her baggage checked to that point when she left San Francisco on February 28.

The chief of police of Detroit has already wired the local department that neither Mrs. Pope nor her baggage has reached there. From this information the detectives reason that the missing woman, fearing police pursuit and apprehension, left the train and managed to obtain her baggage at some station en route. That theory explains the message urging all peace officers at stations along the line to be on the lookout for Mrs. Pope.

While following the movements of the woman in this city the police yesterday learned that Mrs. Pope came to the coast early in 1912. She occupied apartments at the Hotel Panama, on Fourth street, up to September of that year, when she left to go to Portland. On her return she went to the Celtic rooming house, 280 O'Farrell street. While living there she was employed as a trained nurse at a sanitarium in Berkeley. She remained at the Celtic up to the time of her meeting with Conn. After meeting Conn she told her friends that she had become acquainted with an Easterner who was living at the St. Francis Hotel, and that she intended to marry him immediately.

FLAMES ENDANGER A SCORE OF LIVES IN EARLY MORNING FIRE

While Wind Howled With Unusual Velocity Fire is Discovered in Arcade Rooming House on E. 4th. St.

A score of lives were endangered in a freak fire that was discovered at 4:25 o'clock this morning in the Arcade rooming house on East Fourth street near the railroad tracks, and despite the fact that the wind was blowing with unusual velocity, the flames were quickly extinguished before much damage had been caused to the structure or anybody had been injured.

The Arcade house is located on the second and third floors of the frame building on the north side of the street, the entrance to the rooming house being 102 1/2 East Fourth. Mrs. Mary M. Myers is the proprietress. The ground floor section of the building is given over to business uses, including a poolroom conducted by Charles Holmes, formerly a meter reader in the city water department; a butcher shop and grocery conducted by Richards & Vint; and a barbershop over whose destinies Fred Keller presides.

The fire was what the firemen call a "lucky one" and other people refer to as a "freak fire." The reasons for these designations are apparent when the facts connected with it are known. In the first place the origin of the fire is a mystery. Next it is believed to have started in a pool cue rack in Holmes' poolroom; but how it could possibly have started there is not so clear. It is suggested that one of the men who had been playing pool may have left a cigar or cigarette butt on the cue rack, with the fire as the result. This theory is not generally accepted although it is evident that the fire went up through the wall at a point where a cue rack had been located.

Fire Awakens Lodger

At any rate the flames burned up through the wall and into a bedroom occupied by a middle-aged man named Short. The roomer was sound asleep when the fire came to his room, and started burning one of the legs of the bedpost at the head of that structure. A hole had been burned through and the bedpost had sunk through the floor when the fire became voluminous enough to awaken Short. And Short lost no time in giving alarm.

Police to Rescue

Short's screams aroused some of the lodgers but not all of them; and they were also heard by officers of the law, so that in a few minutes the floor and wall into his room, and started burning one of the legs of the bedpost at the head of that structure. A hole had been burned through and the bedpost had sunk through the floor when the fire became voluminous enough to awaken Short. And Short lost no time in giving alarm.

GARDEN GROVE, March 14.—On Thursday evening as Mr. Brown was leaving the schoolhouse after a meeting of the school board, he started his machine, forgetting to put in the clutch, and as soon as he turned the crank the machine started, and as there was no one in it to stop it it ran into a post, smashing one light and otherwise damaging the machine.

SUNRISE EASTER SERVICE AT RIVERSIDE BECOMING ANNUAL WORLD'S PILGRIMAGE

Residents of the Pacific Coast are as devout as their brothers and sisters of the Atlantic coast. Perhaps an unconscious influence is found in the little known fact that eighteen years before the Pilgrim Fathers landed on the Atlantic coast in 1620, the cross of Christ was raised and a chapel erected for worship at Monterey on the Pacific coast. This far western country has always been singularly free from narrowness and bigotry in religious matters.

Perhaps it is this splendid liberal spirit that has given generous support to the annual sunrise Easter service on Mt. Rubidoux at Riverside in Southern California, a beautiful custom instituted for the first time on Easter Sunday morning 1909.

Oberammergau has its Passion Play, English Winchester its annual pageant, Creole New Orleans its carnival, California its Mission Play at San Gabriel, and already the fame of the beautiful Easter morning sunrise service on the mountain top at Riverside is spreading, and each year the number that make the pilgrimages is increased by hundreds.

Very early in the morning before it was light, they hastened to the seculcher," so runs the olden story of that Orient land whence the ceremony is meant to symbolize. Nearly two thousand years since then, and here in this western land, on Easter morn, from far and near, "very early in the morning before it was light," in the last gray hours before the dawn, there is a great multitude gathered for the service on Cross crowned Mt. Rubidoux. At the summit the cross stands, pale and spectral, outlined in the semi-darkness.

Here the people gather in the early dawn, people of every creed and every class, rich and poor, old and young, to participate in the rustic celebration to an unseen and risen Lord.

Motor cars and electric trucks carry loads of people (and also a portable organ) over a splendid modern driveway. Here in the open air, on the towering mountain peak, conducted undernominally, and participated in by every Christian creed, is held the service. The summit of Mt. Rubidoux is the chancel and audience room and the cross itself the altar, a mighty cathedral of nature with the vaulted heaven the sounding board, flanked by the mighty snow-crowned summits of the Sierras of the West, clothed in royal purple majesty, and tipped with the glory of sunrise flame.

The service last year began with a cornet solo, "The Holy City," by Gustav Hilverkus, followed by the Lord's Prayer, led by the Rev. G. M. Anderson. The Rev. W. C. Geyer led the responsive reading. A feature of the program was the reading of the poem, "God of the Open Air," which was read by DeWitt V. Hutchings. This year it will be read by the author, the Rev. Henry Van Dyke. A selected chorus will also render parts of the Messiah.

This unique ceremony on the lofty summit of Mt. Rubidoux was suggested by the noted American philanthropist, Jacob Riis, while a guest of Frank A. Miller, master of Mission Inn. The details were formulated into a very simple but impressive non-sectarian ritual appropriate to the Easter spirit.

Before the second year a permanent order of service had been arranged, still simple and unaffected and as broad as all the creeds, Christian memorial service bringing back for a moment the thought of sunrise for the first Easter. The most important addition to the program of the first year was the use of Dr. Henry Van Dyke's poem, "God of the Open Air." This seems as if written for Southern California and this particular mountain top service. That second year the order of service took the shape which it will probably hold, with perhaps slight alterations, for many decades.

This year Dr. Henry Van Dyke himself will attend and read his poem. The beauty of the sunrise, the common cause, the broad lines of the service program, the association clinging around the memorial cross raised high above the worshippers, makes an impression that once felt, never dims. No one who has ever attended Riverside's annual pilgrimage to the top of Mt. Rubidoux for the sunrise and this religious memorial in combination, ever meets another religious event which has the inspiration of this one. The presence of the great American poet interpreting for the worshippers the poem which best interprets the occasion will bring to those who attend this year, something different religiously from anything that has entered their lives before.

Riverside is a delightful residence city on the main line of the Salt Lake Route, with all the advantages of modern improvements, no saloons, and a climate that is all that could be desired. Broad, asphalt-paved streets, handsome business buildings and beautiful residence places embowered in flowers and orange trees, are features of the city.

A leading feature of Riverside is the Glenwood Mission Inn, one of the show places of California. Built on the plan of the old California missions, with its patio, pergolas, campanile, etc., it is a storehouse of treasures gathered from all over the world, especially of relics of early mission days. Among many others may be mentioned its great collection of bells, numbering nearly 300, of every conceivable shape and kind, many of them hundreds of years old. "The Monastery" portion of the Inn is full of interesting relics of the olden times.

Every place is a show place in San Jacinto valley; everybody helps everybody else out here. Come over and see if you don't feel that way about it. The water is fine, and the wind is certainly blowing this way. It stops, however, when it gets here—you will notice that, also.

SUBMIT ARGUMENTS FOR NEW DISTRICTS

Committee From Chamber of Commerce to Refer the Subject to Directors

When the advocates of the redistricting of the supervisory districts completed their arguments yesterday afternoon before the committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, they departed with the knowledge that their proposition will be submitted to the full board of directors of the local body later on for whatever action may be deemed best. As previously outlined in the Register the northern end of the county is particularly interested in a revision of the district boundaries, and are urging the right to at least two of the five supervisors. If the plan as outlined yesterday is followed, the Santa Ana precincts would also have to be redistricted.

TWO BISHOPS HERE IN A SINGLE WEEK

Bishop Hughes to Make Address Tuesday Night—Bishop Sellow Comes Next Friday

Two bishops will visit Santa Ana within a week, the distinguished men of the church both being of the Methodist persuasion. The first of these to arrive will be the one who is best known on the Pacific coast, the beloved young Bishop E. E. Hughes of the Methodist diocese of California.

Bishop Hughes will lecture at the First Methodist church on Tuesday evening next, and as he is noted for his brilliant speaking, it is expected that a large audience will greet the popular churchman.

The pastor and congregation of the Free Methodist church are looking forward with keen interest to the coming of a notable visitor, Bishop Walter A. Sellow of Jamestown, N. Y., who will be here next Friday for a three or four days visit. He will give two addresses, one each on Friday and Saturday evenings and on Sunday will conduct two evangelistic services.

Bishop Sellow recently made a missionary tour around the world and will have much interesting information to present in his addresses.

WONDERS TO BE SHOWN AT FAIR

Representatives of the Smithsonian and National museums are scouring the earth for exhibits of archaeology and ethnology at the San Diego exposition in 1915.

DYNAMITING A GREAT BENEFIT TO ORCHARDS

Dynamiting holes for fruit trees of all kinds is of great help to the rancher. By breaking up the ground the young trees produce a substantial root-growth, enabling them to withstand the cold weather the first winter.

The vigorous growth the trees make the second year will surprise even the most incredulous "Doubting Tom."

The first cost of preparing the ground with dynamite for young trees is very little in proportion to the benefits they derive from the work. Planting trees in a spade-dug hole is similar to planting them in a flower pot, especially in clay and adobe soil, for the roots have a tendency to curl, and by fall the trees have a tired look, something like a long-legged man trying to get a good night's rest in a short bed.

The first year's root growth is the foundation of the tree, and the tap-root, or endurance root, does not want to be retarded. Blasting the soil greatly helps the growth of the tap-root, also the crown-root or feeders, which will have a tendency to run deeper instead of running so near the surface.

Dynamiting for young trees will not bring them in bearing any earlier, but the first year's crop, owing to the vigorous growth of the trees, naturally will be larger and better than less vigorous trees would or could produce.

Santa Ana's New Plunge

Athletic Club Now Being Organized in Connection With Plunge—Membership Limited to 300, and 150 Already Pledged—Plunge is Free to Members.

The Santa Ana Athletic Club has certainly made a hit among the young men in this city and vicinity who are interested in clean athletic entertainment and exercise. The first mention of the organization was made in the middle of this week, and of the 300 membership limit which has been set, 150 members have already been pledged. At this rate the full membership will be secured by next Saturday. Efforts will be made to close it at that time.

WHAT THE CLUB IS

The Santa Ana Athletic Club is to occupy the second story of the new bath house and plunge which is now under construction at the northeast corner of Third and Spurgeon streets. The building is to be of two stories, 58 by 100 feet.

BENEFITS AND PRIVILEGES

The ground floor will comprise a first class plunge 30x70 feet, with all amusement equipment. A special filtration system is to be installed which is now in use in Sacramento and San Diego which will keep the water at all times 90 per cent pure. This is guaranteed. The ground floor will also include bath rooms, shower baths, etc., also lounging rooms, and seats for spectators.

Membership fee of $25.00 a year gives the privilege of the free use of the entire building for the year, including instructions by the physical director. No dues are to be charged during the year, as the membership fee covers everything.

GYMNASIUM

The second floor will be used exclusively for the athletic club and will be equipped with all of the latest gymnasium apparatus, including basket ball, hand ball, boxing gloves, etc., billiard and pool tables, reading rooms, dressing rooms, lockers, etc. Also a standard size indoor basket ball court 50x70 feet, with seats for spectators. On some nearby lot is to be built at least two tennis courts for the use of the club.

Above all is the physical director who will be employed to direct the physical training of the members and so aid in building up a good body.

The club is organized on a first class basis, and is backed principally by Mr. E. E. Remsburg, who is to be the manager and director. The club will be run on a very high standard which will be easily attained by always having a good waiting list. This list is now assured.

MEMBERSHIP has been placed at $25.00 a year which is at the rate of $2.00 a month. A deposit of $10.00 is asked when the membership application is signed and the remaining $15.00 is payable at the time the building is completed, about the middle of May.

Membership applications may be had from Mr. Harry Hanson of the Farmers & Merchants bank, who is the treasurer; Mr. Victor Walker of the firm of Hill & Walker sporting goods store; Nelson Stafford, James Ryan, Cecil Du Bois, of the Smoke House, or Mr. E. E. Remsburg.

Do not delay but sign for membership at once. See these men at once and make arrangements for your membership.

THAT REDISTRICTING PROPOSITION

There is a very decided and insistent demand on the part of many people in the north end of the county that the county be re-districted into supervisory districts. The north-enders are presenting strong arguments; of that there can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who has followed the matter at all closely. The contentions should be studied closely, and should be acted upon solely for the purpose of securing an equitable adjustment of the district lines. The question of politics should not be allowed to enter into the discussions and should have no weight whatever in the settlement of the controversy. Whether or not the readjustment should follow the proposals made by the north-enders—that is, give the north end of the county two supervisors, which would leave three in the south end,—is a matter worthy of close investigation and careful consideration. However the matter is settled, let every part of the county be given its just dues. And for the love of—well, for the love of anything you hold most sacred let's don't get into an unseemly embittering squabble over the matter.

HOPEFUL EXPECTANCY

President Wilson has been in office hardly long enough as yet to enable him to give any definite line upon the course his administration will follow. There is no doubt that the general sentiment towards his administration is one of good will and hopeful expectancy. There is a wide-spread recognition of the fact that the task before him is of colossal proportions. He knows that he comes into his high office as the choice of a decided minority of the voters of the country. Moreover, he comes into office proclaiming himself a progressive, uttering progressive sentiments and declaring his intention to surround himself with progressives only, but with a consistent and nearly life-long record of action and utterance diametrically opposite to his more recent profession.

The first question, therefore, to which the expectant country demands response is as to the genuineness of his conversion to progressivism. Answer in part to that question is naturally sought in the character of the men he has chosen as his cabinet advisors. As far as this selection affords answer to the question, it is favorable. He has placed Mr. Bryan at the head of his cabinet. If Mr. Bryan's activities in the administration are to be limited to the State Department only, his selection will have no special force in determining the progressive or non-progressive character of the administration, for the work of the State Department bears but slightly upon domestic affairs. It is the general impression, however, that Mr. Bryan's influences will be felt outside the restricted limits of his own department.

The departments whose conduct will furnish the best line upon the true purpose of the administration are those of Justice, the Treasury and the Interior, with the last named probably most important in this respect. For it is in the Interior Department that the great conservation questions come up constantly on which there is no possibility of avoiding the issue. The line between progressivism and reaction is more sharply drawn on these conservation questions than on any other. There is no middle ground. Decisions there must be either progressive or reactionary.

Mr. Wilson is fortunate in having the support and service of Franklin K. Lane in the Interior Department. Mr. Lane, as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, accomplished more than all others to bring that commission to the high state of efficiency it has attained and to make it fulfill so largely as it does the popular ideal of what it should be. Mr. Lane has already evidenced strong sympathy with progressive principles and there is substantial reason for expecting him to hew sharply to the line in his work in the Interior Department.

The president is also fortunate in his selection of Mr. McReynolds as Attorney-General and of Mr. McAdoo for the Treasury Department. The Department of Justice, like that of the Interior, meets problems the solution of which imperatively demands a practical application of progressive principles. The genuine progressives of the country will watch this department eagerly for developments,—especially in regard to dealing with trusts and corporations,—that will show conclusively whether the administration purposes to take a genuinely progressive national attitude toward the trust problem or to be content with a pseudo-progressive but really reactionary states right course.

The course of the Treasury Department, and that of the Department of Commerce as well, also will be watched eagerly for developments that may furnish in part an answer to this same question.

These are questions the answers to which can be found only in the acts of the administration. Such preliminary indications as there are tend to justify the hope that the answer when given will be favorable.

Maxims to Live By

A merchant has sent to the New York Times the following newspaper clipping, which was found in the pocketbook of Stephen Allen, formerly a mayor of New York. The clipping, after serving the needs of Mr. Allen, has been carried in the pocket of this merchant ever since he was a boy, and he says he has always found its counsel good, and tried his best to follow them:

Never be idle.
Make few promises.
Always speak the truth.
Never speak evil of any one.
Keep good company or none.
Live up to your engagements.
Good character is above all else.
Earn money before you spend it.
Be just before you are generous.
Drink no kind of intoxicating liquors.

Keep your own secrets, if you have any.

Keep yourself innocent if you would be happy.

Make no haste to be rich if you would prosper.

When you speak to a person look him in the face.

Save when you are young to spend when you are old.

Ever live (misfortunes excepted) within your income.

Never run in debt unless you see a way to get out again.

Avoid temptation, through fear you may not understand.

Small and steady gains give competency, with tranquility of mind.

Good company and good conversation are the very sinews of virtue.

When you retire to bed think over what you have done during the day.

Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts.

If any one speaks evil of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.

Do not marry until you are able to support a wife.

Never borrow if you can possibly avoid it.

Read over the above maxims at least once a week.

The World's Greatest Card Game
Skat, pronounced Scot, is the world's most scientific card game. It is the chess of cards. It is played almost exclusively by Germans and German-Americans. There are millions and millions of possible combinations, and while winnings are never the object, yet it is always played for a little money, usually about a quarter of a cent per ten points; the national organization made up of skat players mostly from German clubs over this country, does not permit stakes of more than a quarter of a cent a point, so that it is impossible for more than a dollar or two to change hands in an evening among four players. In nearly every large city with a large German population there is a school of skat, but to really play the game it becomes a matter of breeding as well as training—a really good player extends from the grandfather, father and to the son.

Always put scrubbing brushes away with the bristle side down. If you lay the wooden side down the water left in the brush will soak into the wood and loosen the bristles.

To prevent artichokes from turning black when they are cooked, add a little vinegar to the water in which they are boiled. A teaspoonful will be sufficient for a small quantity.

Mrs. Williams' paper was very complete, treating of the various cuts of beef, mutton and pork, their prices and the various ways of cooking them. The usual interesting discussion followed the paper.

The social period of the afternoon was made out of the ordinary by the profusion of greenery and shamrocks being used in house decorations and in conjunction with the refreshments of pressed meat, pickles, sandwiches and etc. "A Shamrock design adorned the napkins.

WHIST AFTERNOON

Mrs. W. L. Tubbs Handsomely Entertained With Cards Yesterday Afternoon

Gay with greenery and fresias, the parlors of Mrs. W. L. Tubbs' home was charmingly attractive yesterday when she entertained at progressive whist. Ferns trailed over curtain draperies and plate rail and were massed on the mantel. The beauty of the scene was enhanced by the handsome spring gowns of the guests.

The St. Patrick's Day motif was observed not only in the pretty decorations but in the invitations of shamrock design, in the shamrock-shaded mints, the lettuce sandwiches and the delicious ices that were a part of the dainty refreshments served following the whist games. Mrs. Tubbs was assisted in serving by Mrs. Volney Tubbs, Mrs. Tomblin, Mrs. John Tubbs and little Misses Louise Tubbs and Scott. The two little girls were presented with souvenir spoons.

The ladies winning prizes in the whist games were Mrs. Charles Kelley, who was awarded a cut glass bonnet dish for first prize, Mrs. W. F. Lutz capturing a dainty embroidered guest towel, the hostess' own handiwork; and Mrs. J. W. Van Cleave, who was consoled with a pretty morning cap. There were fifteen tables of players at this party which was one of the most delightful of the season.

Merry-Go-Round Club

The Merry-Go-Round Club was entertained yesterday by Mrs. Bertha Wilson of Durant street. The refreshments and decorations were of St. Patrick's nature, pansies also being used in addition. Phonograph music, fancy work and refreshments made the time pass swiftly.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Patterson on Ross street.

There was an entertainment at the Detention home last night under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Representatives of the Epworth League of the First M. E. Church conducted an entertainment of music, pictures and games that was most enjoyable to the boys and girls in the home.

These entertainments being given at the detention home will certainly aid in the forming of good character for those whom they are designed to please.

Miss Esther Squires was hostess last evening to a number of her schoolmates, the young people spending a pleasant evening with games. Refreshments and decorations were appropriate to St. Patrick's Day.

Those present were Esther Zimmermann, Ethel Rodger, Olive Lopez, Adeline Keef, Josephine Dean, Harriett Souires, Hazel Johnson, Gladys and Eva Stearns, Fanny and Pansy Kingsbury, Alpha Henry, Martha Williams, Mae Echart, Ruth Richards, Helen Avery, Iola Edwards, Cecil Frost, Messrs. Stanley Mansur, Paul Plaven, Ralph Best, Edmund Keef, Charley Fahey, Charley Kendall, Horace Manger, Jimmy Livsey, Jewel Jaquet, Claude Smith, Clyde Fernald, Clarence Grigsby, Ben Warner, Chester Clark, George Krock, Fred Robinson, Edson Hendrickson, Tom Willis, Cyril Parker, Robbie and Elwell Squires, Mr. Bergman, Lamar Melton.

THE DAY'S RECIPE

Take pieces of boiled ham or smoked shoulder and chop fine to make ham cakes. Potatoes and mash or use cold potatoes and chop. Take two-thirds of potatoes to one-third meat. Add one or two eggs (beaten), enough to make it the right consistency to shape into round flat cakes. Fry in hot fat after dredging them with flour. Should be seasoned to suit taste with salt and pepper. Fish cakes, made in the same way, are very nice. This is a good way to use up pieces of meat or fish. Most all working men like them for their midday luncheon.

AMUSEMENTS

When W. H. Clune, who is soon to present "From the Manger to the Cross," the great motion picture production of the life of Jesus of Nazareth, in this city, first offered the picture to an audience in Los Angeles, made up exclusively of clergymen, newspaper critics and public officials, Rev. George A. Henry, pastor of the fashionable West Adams Methodist church in that city, was designated by a Los Angeles newspaper to write a criticism of the film from a preacher's point of view.

Rev. Henry, in the Los Angeles Tribune, said of the pictures:

"In company with hundreds who viewed 'From the Manger to the Cross' I was profoundly moved by the reverent and impressive portrayal of the life of Jesus. The picture is wholly free from stage effects. It is reverent to a degree which grips everyone. The picture was made in the Holy Land and reproduces as closely as is possible the actual events in our Lord's life. I most heartily and genuinely commend it, and shall join with the thousands who will see it in thanking Mr. Clune for bringing such a picture to our city."

"From the Manger to the Cross" is to be exhibited at the Temple Theater, Sunday afternoon, March 16, at 2:15 and Sunday and Monday nights at 8:15. Matinee prices, 25c and 15c; night, 50c and 25c.

Dr. Clark Coming

Dr. S. H. Clark, Ph.D., associate professor of public speaking at the University of Chicago, will visit Santa Ana March 24 under the auspices of the teachers of the city schools. Dr. Clark has attained a high reputation by his lectures, poetic readings, and dramatic recitals. The Kansas City Journal says of him:

"There are those who contend that for intellectual and imaginative people, the reading of a play is better than the acting. The question is a debatable one, and some distinguished authorities have taken opposite sides in the discussion. Doubtless those who contend for the acted drama have the advantage for the simple reason that there are so few opportunities to hear a play well read. Such an opportunity was presented last evening by Mr. S. H. Clark. Mr. Clark is a distinguished reader and teacher. He is a man of scholarly attainments and artistic discrimination. He is surprisingly successful in his interpretation of the several characters, and also in his presentation of the story. He is modest in his personations, and yet by skillful modulations of voice—or rather from character conceptions that make their own modulations—he defines his people and presents the temperamental contrasts, the varying motives and the poetic beauties of the play, in such a way as to hold even an audience that would not be classed as a gathering of students."

In "Burglars at Brighton," the part of Fraser Green will be played by J. B. O'Neill, who promises to extract a great many laughs from the part of the fussy father-in-law.

Green is a lively old gentleman with a great fondness for riding the motorcycle.

His frantic endeavors to keep his wife from learning that he has met with an accident will furnish a great part of the hundreds of laughs with which "Burglars at Brighton" abounds.

Green knows that if his wife were to find out about his mishap it would be "good-bye to the motorcycle" for him.

The Cause of Rheumatism
Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles B. Allen, a school principal, of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys, writes: "All remedies failed until I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Maybe your rheumatic pains come from stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief. 50c and $1.00. Recommended by all druggists.—Advertisement.

JAPANESE FINDS FRIENDS WHEN NEEDED

Week-End In Superior Court Is Not Productive of Any Startling News

The way of the transgressor was eased somewhat for Y. Kinoshita, a Japanese who had uttered a worthless check in the sum of $8 for which he received meat and the sum of $7.50 in change, when he appeared for trial in the superior court before Judge West. If ever it paid a "little brown man" to have friends in a foreign land, it certainly paid in the case of Kinoshita.

It was only a few days ago that the accused Jap was taken into custody by Constable Jackson on the charge of passing the bogus paper on Mr. Sutton of the Chicago meat market. His preliminary examination brought forth sufficient evidence to warrant his being held in $1000 bail for trial in the upper court.

When the evidence adduced was reviewed, the verdict of guilty was inevitable, and a long prison sentence was staring Kinoshita in the face. It was then that he found that he was far from friendless. A delegation of local Japanese appeared in court and pleaded for leniency, asserting that the prisoner was not really a bad man, and expressing faith in him and his honesty of purpose. He had been employed at the sugar factory and his employers had a good word for him; Mr. Pinka of Los Angeles also vouched for him; and several of his countrymen also ran in support of this representation.

In view of the circumstances Judge West decided to give Kinoshita another chance, and he withheld pronouncing sentence for five years, and released the Jap on probation, much to his relief and the unrestrained joy of his guarantors.

BREA BOOSTERS TO WORK IN UNISON

LA HABRA, March 15.—On Wednesday evening a number of Brea citizens gathered at the La Habra Valley Bank for the purpose of discussing the proposition of launching a chamber of commerce. While the crowd that gathered was small, it was not lacking in enthusiasm, and when the adjournment came about it was with the understanding and firm determination that an organization of this nature was much needed and would be brought about in the near future.

In view of the steady growth of the city, together with the fact that a postoffice is now assured, is enough in itself to warrant such a move and the sooner this is accomplished the sooner Brea will be recognized in the circles where she belongs, and it is certainly up to every citizen in the city to fall in line and boost for the coming old center of Southern California, regardless.

Next Wednesday evening, March 19, is the date set for the next meeting which is to be held at the same place and a representative crowd of boosters is looked for. Arrangements have been made for the town hall in case of an overflow attendance.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

INCIDENTS WHILE JUSTICE WAS DISPENSED

Friends Become Enemies In a Twinkling and Almost as Quickly Forgive

Wails and woes centered at the courtroom of Justice of the Peace Cox before the official hour for closing arrived at noon today, and there was a mingling of pathos and stern justice that had a genuine human interest to it. There was a real touch of human tragedy to it all, though it might have been regarded fairly as a comedy of errors, just ordinary human frailties to blame for all the trouble and call for formalities of law.

First brought forward were five young men who gave names, as varying as their appearances, and all presumably adopted for the occasion. They had been arrested while seeking lodgings in the Santa Fe railroad yards last Thursday night. They gave their names as W. J. Britton, J. F. Thomas, J. Tonsen, G. W. Landberg and Joe Cunningham. They were charged with the sin of vagrancy and they admitted their guilt. They were out of work, they had no homes, nor friends, nor prospects. They were plainly that they were accused of being human derelicts on the sea of life and civilization. And because they were and the law so nominates in its provisions, they were sent to the county jail to get ten days rest, and a much needed opportunity of cleaning up.

Fight and Make Up

Then came a regiment of Mexicans, men and women, fearful of the ordeal that they imagined awaited them in the court room even though they were only on hand to plead for their friends and relatives, Messrs. Julian Terrans and Jose Cruz. Be it understood that Jose and Julian had long been friends and they had always liked each other well. Then came yesterday and their dispute, and, scarcely more they knew it, they were fighting each other like wild animals. Their fury knew no abatement and so the sheriff was asked to wait upon them. Deputy Law visited the fighting couple at Delhi, where they make their humble homes, and both were placed under arrest.

Meek and lowly were the two men, all the fury having died out of their hearts, and their animal passions subdued, they were arraigned before Justice Cox. They admitted their guilt—they had been fighting, it was true. They should be ashamed, they knew it; but now it was all over. They would fight no more. Their women folks sniffed, and wept noiselessly. Their friends shifted uneasily in the court room chairs. What would happen? Nobody knew. The Americans sometimes sent Mexicans to prison for years for fighting, so some one had said.

But Justice Cox removed their fears by imposing fines of $5 each. Jose smiled almost into a laugh, and having money paid his fine promptly, almost eagerly. But Julian had no money and he turned sorrowfully away. It meant five days imprisonment for him unless the fine was paid. Then J. L. Weaver, who knows both men, stepped to the front and advanced the necessary money. Once outside, Jose stepped quietly over to Mr. Weaver, and slipping him a gold piece remarked in his native tongue: "Me and Julian good friends, so I pay his fine. Si, senor?"

And then and there Weaver had the two men shake hands and forget their differences, while their friends and women-kind smiled and laughed and exchanged felicitations.

TRYING TO SETTLE RIGHT-OF-WAY CASES

ORANGE, March 15.—It is intimated here today that there will be settlements out of court of the remaining right-of-way cases, which will mean that the Pacific Electric Railway company will not have to continue its condemnation proceedings in the superior court to get permission and land upon which to lay its track between Santa Ana and this city. The committee that waited upon Mr. Oehleke, one of the dissatisfied property owners, report today that they have reached a satisfactory settlement but decline to say what it is.

SNEAK THIEF IS VISITOR AT TWO HOMES

He Boldly Enters Residences on Edinger Street But Gets Away With Nothing

A daring sneak thief made a futile attempt at operating in this city between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday evening, but his activities availed him nothing. He left evidences of his visits at two homes, however, and today the police are endeavoring to locate him so as to prevent another outburst upon his part.

The home of J. H. Dunkin, on Edinger street near the river, was first visited by the unknown, who gained entrance during the absence of the family by prying upon a screen. He ransacked the place, but so far as known did not take anything of value. It is believed that he was frightened away by some unknown cause, and that he had the same experience while on his second job.

The second place visited was at the residence of Mr. Herrmann at the corner of Sullivan and Edinger streets. He had evidently only begun to ransack this place when he was disturbed by the unexpected arrival of Mr. Herrmann, who drove up with a load of lumber. Entrance at this house had been obtained by opening the rear door which had not been locked.

HAWAIIAN TEAM TO ENTER PACIFIC COAST MEET, APRIL 4

BERKELEY, Cal., March 15.—Word was received this week by the committee in charge of the Pacific Coast Interscholastic meet which is to be held in Berkeley on April 4 and 5 that a six-man swimming team is planning to make the trip from Honolulu to participate in the swimming tournament in the university pool on the evening of April 4. Duke P. Kahanamoku, the Hawaiian champion who took part in the last Olympic games, will accompany the team and give an exhibition program.

The appearance of the swimmers from the mid-Pacific will be an added attraction of the third preparatory school athletic carnival given under the auspices of the Big "C" Society.

With the entry of the Hawaiian team the 1913 interscholastic will be the greatest in point of territory represented ever held in the United States. Promise has been given from the far north of the entry of a team representing the Fort Townsend High school in Washington. From the east a team will come from the Salt Lake City High School and from the far south San Diego will send a delegation.

Entries for both the track and swimming meets close on March 25. Already letters have been received from nearly forty schools in all parts of the coast, giving assurance of the entry of teams and a much larger number will be heard from when the blanks begin to arrive. The committee is making preparations to accommodate five hundred athletes.

Track statistics which have just been issued for 1912 show that the last Pacific Coast Interscholastic Meet stood second among its kind in the United States. Comparative figures compiled by the committee show that the Harvard interscholastic alone excelled in the number of events contested. Three men who participated at Berkeley last year were chosen by the A. A. U. for the All-American team.

MAGAZINE WRITER J. KENNETH TURNER SAFE FROM MEXICO

Anaheim Gazette: John Kenneth Turner, brother of Prof. R. I. Turner of this city, and author of "Barbarous Mexico," who was recently captured by the Huerta soldiers in Mexico City and who was to have been shot as a disturber of the peace of mind of the Mexican populace, escaped the toils of the Mexican law and has arrived in New York city. His brother here received news the first of the week that he had arrived in New York city with the Madero party, who had also escaped their enemies, and was safe on American soil again. It is stated that John Kenneth Turner was to be shot by the Huerta soldiers, but before the execution was to have taken place he escaped from a drunken guard, and after hiding in Mexico City for a time, with the aid of friends made his way to Vera Cruz, boarded an American ship secretly and arrived at New York last week. Prof. Turner was very glad to learn of his brother's escape, for he had feared that he would be killed by his enemies in Mexico.

THREE YEAR CONTRACT TO VEGETABLE UNION

Celery Growers' Association Give Quarter of Cent Additional as Compensation to Selling Agent

At a meeting of growers of the Orange County Celery Growers' Association yesterday the California Vegetable Union was again chosen as the association's selling agent. A contract for three years was given. The California Vegetable Union has sold the association's output for the last eight or ten years, with thorough satisfaction to the growers. The last contract, which was for three years, ends with the season now closing, and it was for the purpose of discussing the proposed renewal of the contract that the union has held for the last three years that the meeting was called.

There was no opposition whatever to the continuance of the union as the association's selling agent with one-fourth of a cent per dozen added to the compensation of the agent. At the present time the price paid the agent is 1 1/2 cents per dozen bunches for all celery selling under eighteen cents per dozen bunches, and 2 cents for all celery that sells for eighteen cents or more per dozen bunches.

Since the acreage set to celery in this county has been greatly decreased, greater compensation was thought proper, and the growers yesterday agreed to a contract that advances the compensation one-fourth of a cent per dozen bunches. Practically all of the celery brings more than eighteen cents per dozen bunches. Last year was the banner year for prices, part of the time the price being fifty cents per dozen bunches. This year prices have not been satisfactory, due to the fact that the market was injured by shipments of growers outside the association. These shipments were made without orders, and oftentimes the arrival of the celery in the East found the market bad.

The Celery Growers' Association today shipped out the last of the golden heart variety. There remains some fifteen or twenty acres of green-top variety still to be shipped, with the disposal of which the season will end. The output this year for the county is about 850 carloads, which is several hundred less than last year. Many men formerly engaged in celery growing have turned to growing sugar beets, which can be contracted for before planting. The celery grower is dependent upon market conditions for his price.

HUNTINGTON BEACH FOR IMPROVEMENTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 15.—At a meeting of the city trustees to be held Monday evening, the matter of calling a special bond election to secure funds for building a sewer system here will be taken up and at the same time a proposition to secure a $5000 fire equipment will have attention. It is probable that a plan for the new Carnegie library building, somewhat similar to that of the library at Orange, will be accepted.

An artesian well just completed on the Lavering ranch near here yields five and a half inches of water over a four-inch pipe and demonstrates that excellent water can be obtained here on the mesa land at a reasonable depth—a very unusual fact.

W. Wakeham has sold to Lee A. Phillips of Los Angeles, through the agency of T. B. Talbert & Co., of this city, sixty-six and three-fourths acres of land lying about seven miles northeast of Huntington Beach. The purchase price has not been made public.

St. Patrick and the Shamrock

THE SHAMROCK came into Irish history at the time St. Patrick was trying to convert Leoghaire, a chieftain, and his followers to Christianity. St. Patrick is said to have plucked a shamrock from the sward to explain by its triple leaf and single stem in same rough way the doctrine of the blessed trinity—one God and three divine persons, the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost.

KEPPEL FAVORS SCHOOLS IN JAILS

More Men Teachers and Public to Support Children of All Educators

LOS ANGELES, March 15.—Declaring that the school system of Los Angeles county does not reach far enough, that there should be a school in every jail, that there should be more male teachers, that there should be a teachers' college in Los Angeles and that the state should pay money toward the support of the children of all men teachers, Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, last night went into details of the school system of Southern California in an address before the Knickerbocker club.

He explained why Los Angeles is first among American cities in matters of education. "The people who flood here from Iowa, Missouri and the middle west are courageous pioneers," he declared, "who have dared to leave their homes for this new country where they can expand. They dare to try new and improved methods in education.

"There are 3500 teachers in this county, 600 trustees, 166 school boards and thirty-five high schools, and this system is setting the pace for the entire state."

Mr. Keppel said that there should be 300 night schools added to the Los Angeles equipment.

"The Los Angeles State Normal school would cease to be a 'ladies' seminary' if we could have a college for teachers in this city, because at present the boys who go to the big universities with the intention of becoming teachers change their minds when they come in contact with the great majority who are preparing for the law or engineering and are switched off. When university degrees are

FURNITURE STORE INSTALLS RUG RACK

A new rug rack with sufficient capacity to display from two to three hundred room-size rugs has just been installed by the Tipton-Spurgeon Furniture store. Previously, this store has found it preferable to show their rugs on the floor of their salesroom, but the growing demand for larger variety to choose from and the steady increase in sales has made it necessary to carry a very much larger stock of rugs than heretofore. The new rug rack was put in to economize on floor space as well as to facilitate the displaying of goods and makes it possible to show a large number of rugs to different customers at the same time.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR HAVE OUTDOOR TIME

Santa Ana Commandery Among Those Represented at Pomona Meet Today

Knights Templar from all sections of Southern California have been enjoying an open field day at Pomona today, and Santa Ana had its representatives among the jousting participants. Commanderies were represented from Covina, Alhambra, Whittier, Pasadena, Santa Ana and Long Beach, and the occasion was a notable one. The visitors gathered at the Masonic Temple on South Thomas street in the morning, and a parade was formed, headed by the Long Beach Municipal Band, which proceeded east on Garey avenue, thence north to Second street, west to Park avenue, and north on Park avenue to Ganesha Park. The parade was under the direction of Perry W. Weidner, grand captain general of the Grand Commandery.

There was a battalion drill at the park with a review before the grand officers. The local commandery acted as hosts at a basket picnic served at noon. A silver trophy cup will be awarded to the commandery having the largest percentage of attendance of the seven commanderies present.

A program of sports has been arranged for the afternoon and there will be a baseball game between Whittier and Covina, and the Long Beach band will give a concert from the park band stand.

MAY ATTEND SERVICE BY TELEPHONES

So that invalids and aged persons who cannot leave their homes to attend divine services may have the pleasure and benefit of enjoying the same, Rev. E. J. Inwood, pastor of the First Methodist church, has completed the installation of a telephone system at the church for their convenience.

By this novel arrangement, the "shut ins," as the old folks and unfortunates are affectionately referred to, can have the telephones in their homes and rooms attached to the phone system in the church, and hear the full service, and the minister's sermon.

This arrangement will be in working order for the first time tomorrow morning. There are about 25 "shut ins" who are communicants of the First Methodist church, but the invitation is general to all persons so desiring to use this phone system. Rev. Inwood has installed similar service in other churches and found it a great blessing.

GET A TEN CENT BOX OF CASCARETS

Keep Your Liver and Bowels Active and You Feel Bully for Months

Put aside—just once—the Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oils or purgative waters which merely force a passage through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Bile, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.—Advertisement.

GREAT COLONIST RUSH FREELY PREDICTED

Railroad Traffic Managers Are Prepared for Heaviest of Westward Travel

SANTA ANA SURE OF MANY NEW VISITORS

First Cars Start From Middle West This Morning Packed to Almost Overflowing

Now comes the usual rush of colonists to Southern California, for this is the official opening day for the season. Santa Ana representatives of the Salt Lake Route, the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific railroad companies predict that this colonist season will prove the biggest and best that the Great Southwest has ever known, and that Orange county because of its enviable fame and unrivaled agricultural and horticultural offerings, will attract the best classes among the visitors.

Colonist tickets at the usual low rates will go on sale in the east today, and will continue until April 15. Passenger traffic men estimate that 50,000 tickets will be sold to this state alone and that the destinations of 50 per cent of these tickets will be stations contiguous to this city.

Most of those coming here are of the substantial farming class, persons who come with their families and intend settling on the land. Assuming five persons to a family, it means that 10,000 families are coming to the state; 5000 families to the great southwest. As usual with the colonist class, the heads of the families come with their savings. There is no means of determining these savings, but $1000 to each family head is a safe estimate. This means that $5,000,000 will come to the Southwest for investment in the next thirty days, and $10,000,000 to the state as a whole.

Inquiries which have been pouring in on traffic men the last two or three months indicate usual interest in the Imperial and San Joaquin valleys, and literature on cotton and alfalfa raising has been in particular demand.

If the traffic men's estimates as to the colonist traffic are correct it means an addition of something over $1,500,000 to the railroads' exchequers. As usual, special preparations are being made to handle the west-bound rush and extra equipment has been parked at Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and New Orleans, to guard against emergencies.

Once the tide of travel approaches its height, second sections of all west-bound limited trains will be offered. As the homeward-bound rush of the winter tourists begins in April, equipment coming west-bound will be found in demand for rerouting east.

Why not a pair of glasses? See Dr. Loersch, 116 East Fourth Street.

THE GRAND CANYON AT SAN FRANCISCO IN 1915

Moving Day is an American institution, whether the date be May first or some other time of the year. Even historic objects are subject to this national fad. Cleopatra's Needle, for example, was moved thousands of miles, by land and water; but no one yet has been daring enough to think of carrying away the Grand Canyon of Arizona—not even John Hance, Arizona's most accomplished Haysayampa graduate.

The nearest approach to that impossible feat is the plan of the Santa Fe Railway to exhibit a replica of the Canyon at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in San Francisco, during 1915.

A concession has been granted that company for five acres of ground. In this space will be built a reproduction of the Canyon and a Pueblo Indian village, at a cost of many thousands of dollars—by far the most expensive exhibit of its kind ever attempted.

A facsimile of the Titan of Chasms, as seen from several different points, will be made by building and modeling in perspective. The great distances will be shown by a painted background. In that way the vastness of this gigantic gorge (which is a mile deep and miles wide) can be effectively developed—also its most striking architectural forms and gorgeous coloring.

The observer will ride in comfortable electric cars and view the magic scene from various points, including the new Hermit Rim Road and Trail. Parties will be seen going up and down the trails, floating clouds will drift through the Canyon, and in every manner imaginable working out realistic effects will be given daily. At night it will be an electrical fairland.

The entrance and lower front will follow the mission style of architecture. The upper front will represent a Pueblo Indian village, with genuine adobe houses and Navajo hogans built by expert workers of those tribes. Here these Indians and their families will live and engage in such occupations as making pottery, weaving blankets and baskets, fashioning silver ornaments, and the preparation of food.

Unique ceremonial dances will be given daily. Whether the barbaric Hopi Snake Dance will be shown depends somewhat on the 1915 crop of desert rattlers and the nerve of the performers. Should the handling of live rattlesnakes be prohibited, there are other equally picturesque dances on the list.

On the ground floor of the village will be a notable display of Indian handicraft.

The next best thing to seeing the Grand Canyon itself will be a glimpse of this titanic education exhibit, the most expensive and most startling scenic spectacle ever staged at any world's fair.

EL MODENA NOTES AND NEWS GOSSIP

EL MODENA, March 15.—The El Modena school house was broken into last evening by unknown parties, who entered through the usual aperture, the doorway, but not in the usual manner. No loss was reported, though things were strewn about in disorder.

Mrs. O. Evans, mother of L. W. Evans, has been quite sick for a short time. She was reported better this morning.

The Evans baby has also been ill for several days.

The W. C. T. U. will meet tomorrow at the home of Mrs. R. W. Jones. John Fletcher went to Los Angeles on a business trip today.

Contractor F. W. Edwards is getting himself established in El Modena in preparation for the building of the new El Modena school.

Work has been started on the new Friends parsonage in El Modena. The church people have sold half of the church lot and with the proceeds expect to build a parsonage and fit up the church. F. V. Pruitt of Orange is the contractor in charge of the work.

AMUSEMENTS

Charles Meakins and Mabel Wilber have waltzed in their careers with "The Merry Widow" over five hundred miles. They have played the parts of Prince Danilo and Sonia respectively over 2000 times, always together, in the same company, and each time have whirled over a quarter of a mile of space.

The width of the average stage is thirty feet. In each whirl of the waltz they pass across the stage the equivalent of four times and with ten encores they do over 1200 feet each performance. This, of course, does not count their numerous solo dances.

But both have returned to this season's production with renewed vigor, and will play their parts at the Grand Opera House Tuesday, March 26, in the lavish new production which Mr. Henry W. Savage promises. Their early experiences this season have taught them that they are predestined to cover a lot more territory in the famous waltz. The popularity of it has not abated one has been greeted with all the old lot. The famous Lehor masterpiece time warmth and the producer, Mr. Savage, has in it a classic and perennial success.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET
The prospects for the honey crop this season have improved, and with more rain a much larger output than has been expected is predicted by dealers who are in touch with the situation. The honey crop last season was short and as a result the market has been firm nearly all the time.

A shipment of green peas from Brawley is expected today. Several sacks a week come in. They have been selling at 20 cents a pound. Some peas are also received from the north. A small quantity of wax beans were quoted at 25 cents a pound. Until the local supply is available some time hence these articles will continue scarce. Tomatoes were firm yesterday at about $1.15 to $2 a box, owing to the scarcity of the Mexican stock. The onion and potato markets remain practically the same as usual. Sweetens have been easier the last few days.

Imported Malaga grapes, or Almerias as they are sometimes called, meet with a very good demand, the price being about $8.50 a barrel. Apple receipts were good as usual. The market continues at low prices. Shipments from Oregon and Washington are received, the fruit being of good quality.

Eggs were up 1 cent yesterday. The fluctuations are practically without significance as far as the general condition of the market is concerned. As soon as receipts show a steady betterment a decline is due to occur. Butter was firm and slight fluctuations either way, until the expected steady decline occurs, are not unlikely. Receipts were good. Cheese was steady.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

Coreopsis Club
The Coreopsis Club will meet next Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. L. House.

Missionary Society
The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Advent Christian church held its regular meeting last Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Carey in Santa Ana.

Tustin Literature Section
The Tustin Literature Section will meet next Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Margaret Neely, 2004 Bush street, Santa Ana. They will study the March number of "Current Opinion."

Meeting of Mission Society
It is very much desired that as many members of the Presbyterian Missionary Society as possible should go to the annual meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society meeting in Los Angeles next Wednesday. A party of ladies will endeavor to take the 7:40 a.m. car and go up for the day, and as many ladies of the church as possible are urged to attend this meeting.

Richardson Embroidery Club
The Richardson Embroidery Club held a meeting with Mrs. Sharp at the Tustin Hotel Thursday afternoon. Although the meeting was not a very full one, the ladies passed the afternoon pleasantly and busied themselves with some beautiful work which they have on hand. Fruit was served and that also was much enjoyed by the ladies.

Tustin Twelve
As the weeks roll around and the time comes for another meeting of the Tustin Twelve some distinctive feature develops to make each one varied from all the others and furnishes something different for enjoyment.

At the meeting last Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. S. House, Mr. Verne House, son of the hostess, contributed largely to the entertainment by playing some beautiful piano solos and also assisting his mother in serving delicious refreshments.

The peach blossom decorations were those which could only be used in profusion and beauty at this time of the year. These were varied by violets and smilax in the dining room. Mrs. Chas. Johnson did not fail them when the ladies called for some of her pretty vocal solos. With busy fingers over fancy work, and merry conversation, the afternoon passed all too quickly.

Those present were, two guests of the club, Mesdames Otis Bridgeford and Charles Ward, and the club members, Mesdames Arthur Hofer, Chas. Artz, Chas. Johnson, Ellis Smith, B. F. Nimmo, Albert Fuller, Fred Morehead, Geo. Pollard, E. J. Cranston and Fred Poole.

Surprise Party
A very enjoyable surprise was given Mrs. Sarah Moore's last Wednesday afternoon at her home. The members of the Women's Berean Bible Class of the Presbyterian church had been informed at their last meeting that Mrs. Moore was going on a visit to the East to be absent for several months and this surprise party was arranged for Wednesday afternoon as the ladies wished to go to see her all together to show their appreciation of her work with them in the past year and offer their hearty good wishes for a safe trip and a speedy return. Her daughters, Mrs. Cranston and Mrs. Currier, were in the secret and a good many of the ladies came together and were taken to her room, where she was quietly sewing in her house dress, and they all enjoyed her astonishment at seeing so many guests at once. She was quite equal to the occasion and very soon understood the whole thing.

Now this class is composed of many of the prominent housekeepers in the Tustin district and when they come together something always happens, so nobody was surprised at the delicious chocolate and cake that was served.

The ladies present were: Mesdames Marshall, Eells, Leiby, Colgan, Dryer, Whitney, Cook, Taylor, Phinney, Pollard, Lawrence, Stearns, Logan, Mock, Currier, Cranston and Lindeberger, and Miss Stone. But one of the number who had been expected was missing and several inquiries were made about Mrs. F. H. Spence. A knock at the door at last informed the ladies that Mrs. Spence was so busy packing up to go away herself she was unable to attend. It dawned upon the ladies that they were losing two of their members, and later on the whole company went in a body to wait upon Mrs. Spence, to express their regrets at losing another one of their willing workers.

Will Study Spanish
The Tustin Young Men's Club organized some time ago under the leadership of Gaston Griset, for the purpose of athletics, will have a class of Wednesday evenings for the study of the Spanish language. In addition to their athletic work on Tuesday and Friday evenings, on Thursday evening also a class in public speaking will be introduced. The young men have become interested in these subjects and the names enrolled number about sixty.

There is no smoking in the general room where the real work of the club is going on, but the boys are made to feel at home and urged to take part in these subjects on self improvement.

Annual Meeting of Pythian Sisters
Friday evening, March 7, was the occasion of the official visit to Wisteria Temple No. 27, of Mary D. Ouerman, grand chief of the Pythian Sisters of the state of California. The work was exemplified for her benefit, in the balloting for and initiation of Miss Viola Le Bard. After the initiation and the transaction of business of the order, the grand chief addressed the Temple and gave instruction in the new work recently adopted by the Supreme Temple. At the close of the meeting, while the refreshment preparations were in progress, Miss Offermann favored those present with several vocal selections. Members who were unable to attend missed a treat. Refreshments of cold meat, with relishes, sandwiches, salted nuts, olives, pickles, cheese, home-made cake and coffee were served and the gathering dispersed in the "sweet" hours. The attendance was good and the meeting enjoyable to all.

Easter Vacation
A two weeks' Easter vacation for the Tustin school begins at the end of this week. The various teachers will spend the vacation with friends as follows: Miss Lida Turner will go to Santa Ana and Los Angeles; Miss Emma Hunter to her home in Redlands; Miss Olive Doherty, sight-seeing in San Diego, and Miss Ethel Doherty with her grandmother in Los Angeles.

Have Gone to Arizona
Harry Wilcox, Wm. McLaughlin and T. H. Carpenter have taken government claims in Arizona and will go next week to begin making homes for their families. These young men have been connected with some of the enterprises of Tustin, but have decided to make this move to Arizona, and they go with the good wishes of their friends for a successful and prosperous career in becoming possessors of fine sections of farming lands near the town of Huachuca.

Lectured on Philippines
Rev. Mr. McLaughlin, a returned missionary from the Philippines, now of Santa Ana, gave a beautifully illustrated lecture about those islands Thursday night at the Tustin Presbyterian church. Mr. McLaughlin is a free and easy speaker and kept his audience amused at his many funny sayings, and at the same time had some very valuable and highly educational information about these most interesting islands. He spoke of the splendid missionary work which the United States is doing down there in inaugurating the postal system, the telegraph system and the making of a thousand miles of macadamized roads. Also in sending teachers from the United States there are now about eight hundred English teachers who have trained six thousand natives to teach and six thousand other English speaking salaried persons in the islands who are paid out of the revenue from the Philippine Islands. Many other interesting facts were told in a way to hold the closest attention of his audience.

The Circus Is Here
Easter vacation in Tustin began yesterday afternoon with a circus in town. The circus arrived Thursday evening and the quiet location of the Southern Pacific depot was a busy scene that evening. It was whispered that a real live elephant was in town, which no doubt made the hearts of the little boys beat faster, and as many as could get there were on hand last night to see what kind of a circus had found Tustin out.
